

They swing the jazz standards and get dirty with the blues. Then they throw in a little Motown and rock for variety. It's no wonder why they are called Carried Away, and rightfully so. These three musicians are not amateur garage band musicians. Each member brings something special to the table where they shine as individuals as well as a trio. Gary Lapado is an astonishing and highly sought after musician, who sings, plays Guitar, Pedal Steel, Banjo, Mandolin and Fiddle with perfection. Ray Mann is a novelty by himself. He sets himself apart from any other rhythm musician by masterfully playing the Bass, and the Drums while Singing simultaneously. Carrie Cunningham has a way of inducing the listener into a euphoric coma with her rich alluring voice and charming stage presence. Not only does she melt hearts when she sings jazz, blues, and classical, but she also runs the #1 rated Portland Country Band Carrie Cunningham & the Six Shooters. As if that's not enough, she also writes and runs the Portland Chapter for Nashville Songwriters Association International.

Between Carrie Cunningham, Ray Mann and Gary Lapado, their crafts have been heard by Publishers, Nashville Legends, Symphony goers, Jazz festivals, Presidents Carter and Regan, and Queen Elizabeth II to name a few. All of their years of experience have made this trio a perfect combination.
